Farmers And Fruit Growers Must Purchase License For Full Gross Instead of Smaller Gross Or Do Without Use of Trucks — Claim This Is Hardship.

Farmers and fruit growers for the past several years have been privileged to purchase a motor truck license for a smaller gross than their truck called for, which could be used during the spring and early summer months, at which time they were more than likely hauling small loads. Then when the fruit season came along and they would be putting their trucks to full use they purchased a half-year license for the full gross of the truck. In this way they were able over the time until money from their crops was available, at the same time saving a few dollars on the deal.

With the cancellation of this privilege by the Dept. of Public Highways, they are required to purchase a license for the full gross or else do without the use of their truck and in many cases will result in a loss to the government instead of an increase. For instance, Harry Walters, of Wisconsin, owns a Dodge truck of six ton gross. In the past he has been able to buy a three-ton license for the early part of the season at a cost of $34. Then when half-year licenses came into effect on September 1 he purchased a six-ton license for an additional $40, giving him use of the truck for the season at a cost of $74. The three-ton license permitted him to haul a load of approximately one ton. The gross plates were displayed on the side of his truck and the vehicle was subject to weighing on the government highway scales at any time to see that the privilege was not being abused. This year, however, he has been notified that he must purchase the six-ton license at a cost of $94 now or else not use the truck, the department refusing the lighter plates.

Commenting on this change, Mr. Walters stated, "The government by this action not only puts the fruit grower to a needless expense at this time of year when they are hard pressed, but eventually loses on deal as many growers, myself included, will simply wait until the half-year license goes into effect on September 1 and then buy a license for the balance of the year for half cost. This, in my case, is $42 as compared to the $14 they would have collected, and they also lose the six cents tax on every gallon of gas that would have been used in the trucks. It must be borne in mind that growers use their trucks solely for hauling their own grown products to market and that they only use their truck for three or four months a year while the fruit is on."

Political Activity Charge Is Probed

Investigation of charges of political partisanship against Ernest L. Snider, St. Ann's Postmaster, was completed on Monday by J. J. Beach, acting as Commissioner. Snider denied all allegations of political activity on his part.

Several witnesses testified they were approached by the father, J. M. Snider, employed as Assistant Postmaster, just prior to the last election. Snider Sr. sought their votes for the Conservative Party, they said.

The majority of witnesses agreed that Postmaster Ernest Snider had taken no part in the political discussions. Commissioner Beach referred to the conduct of Snider Sr. as "concededly indiscreet."

Secretary To County Clerk Passes Away Council Attends Funeral

The staff of the county building and the village of Jordan Station has been cast into deep sorrow in the sudden death of Ethel Louise Rittenhouse, who passed away at the Toronto General Hospital on Wednesday last following an operation to remove a brain tumor.

The late Miss Rittenhouse, who was in her 32nd year, was stenographer in County Clerk and Treasurer Camby Wimmer for the past 18 years. Of a cheerful disposition and an efficient worker, she was highly esteemed and her sudden death comes as a severe shock to her many friends.

A life long resident of Jordan Station she was favorably known throughout the village. She had taken on an active part in young people's activities. The oldest daughter of Anna L. and the late Jacob K. Rittenhouse, she is survived by her mother, two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Henry Cole, Brockville, Mrs. Gordon Hensberger, Jordan Station, Ernest and Harry at home.

The funeral, one of the largest ever seen in the district, took place on Saturday afternoon, when deceased was laid to rest amid a profusion of beautiful flowers. Service was held at her late home by Rev. C. R. Albright and Rev. George Cropp, of Fenwick. The members of the Lincoln county council for whom she had been stenographer for the last ten years, formed a guard of honour at the grave. Six cousins of the deceased acted as pallbearers.

BARTON FISHERMAN HURT AT GRIMBY

When Charles Hildreth, aged 71, of Barton township, was returning home after a day's fishing near Grimby Beach, his car was struck and wrecked by a hit-and-run American driver at Hannigan's curve, near Fruitland. Mr. Hildreth escaped with a shaking-up. The driver and a passenger, William Powell, 156 Rosilyn avenue north, Hamilton, both stated that the other driver had cut out of a line of eastbound traffic and was attempting to pass another car when he smashed into their vehicle at the curve. It is alleged that the car stopped a little further down the road and that the driver got out and looked at the left front, then got back in the car and stepped on the gas. Provincial Constable Jess investigated. Hildreth's car was badly damaged.

Former Pastor's Wife Speaker At W.M.S. Of United Church

The W.M.S. (Afternoon Auxiliary) of Trinity United Church held their regular monthly meeting in Trinity Hall on the afternoon of Thursday, June 11th.

What made this meeting one of outstanding interest was the fact that the guest speaker was Mrs. G. W. Wood of Toronto who was very warmly welcomed by the ladies of the auxiliary. She gave a most interesting address, her subject being "The Church of All Nations, Toronto". After describing the building, Mrs. Wood told of the gradual but certain uniting of the different nationalities included in the term—"New Canadians" in their attendance at this church.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Wood at the close of her address.

At the close of the meeting a very pleasant social hour was spent while refreshments were served.

At night Mrs. Wood also spoke to a largely attended meeting of the younger women of the church, The Evening Auxiliary, on the same subject, pointing out that the outstanding need in the world today is the willingness and ability to be able to sit where others sit, to look at life through the eyes of others and to seek the other's viewpoint. Mrs. G. L. Eaton and Miss Flora Allen assisted in the enjoyment of the program with vocal solos. A pleasant social hour followed.

SUPREME COURT GIVES DECISIONS

Two Reform Acts Held Unconstitutional, One Invalid In Part — Two Upheld And Judge Split On Three.

Six white-haired Judges of the Supreme Court of Canada, in crumpled gowns, sat in a plain, dusty old court room designed originally as a carpenter shop, and gave judgments on Wednesday on eight reform laws passed by the Bennett Administration in 1924 and 1925.

Two of the most advanced laws written into the statute books in years were declared unconstitutional — the Natural Products Marketing Act and the Employment and Social Insurance Act.

One was declared unconstitutional in part—the Dominion Trade and Industry Commission Act.

Two were upheld — the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act and Section 496A of the Criminal Code.

The Judges split 3-3 on the Minimum Wage Act, forty-eight-hour week and the weekly day of rest.

Law officers of the Dominion began studying the judgments, but there was one thing certain — there will be appeals to the Privy Council in England, probably by agreement with the Provinces who attacked the eight laws before the court.

The decision of the court will have no immediate repercussion, because it is not binding, merely an opinion. When the final decision of the Privy Council is made, the Government will start recasting the laws in the light of the judgments, but this will take months. Meanwhile they remain in operation.

It was the end of the longest and most important constitutional reference in the sixty-one-year history of the Supreme Court. The hearing took two weeks, with evidence running to 500,000 words.

The Judges took five months to write their decisions.

Tent Caterpillars In Stoney Creek Area

Evidence that considerable numbers of tent caterpillars are in the district is to be seen in the defoliated wild cherry, apple and other trees growing along some of the roads on the Mountain. One apple orchard on a neglected farm was noticed completely stripped of its leaves. On examination Friday of several of the so-called tents or webs seen in the trees, it was found that the caterpillars had deserted them, having wandered off to some sheltered place where they might spin their cocoons. Only one brood appears in the year. Outbreaks of this insect occur sporadically, a severe outbreak lasting for a number of years. Spraying with arsenate of lead and cutting down natural or wild fruit trees along the fences and roadsides are two methods of control recommended for keeping this injurious insect in check.

HONOR MEMORY OF HOMER WATSON

Was to Have Received Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws in Recognition of His Contributions To Canadian Art, From Western University.

With a background of stately trees, the River Grand and glorious pagentry, the brilliant graduation service of Western University, London, was held on June 3, when 344 students were sent out with their various degrees and diplomas. A very signal honor was to have been bestowed on the late Homer H. Watson, R.C.A., the renowned and loved Canadian landscape artist of Don, Ontario, that of receiving the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws in recognition of his contributions to Canadian art and it was learned with profound regret that the great painter had passed away four days before convocation. He, however, knew of the honor which was to have been conferred on him.

His sister, Miss Phoebe Watson and constant companion for the past eighteen years, went by special invitation to hear the tribute.

Of Mr. Watson, Dr. Fox said, "A true Canadian he returned to Canada with the single purpose of consecrating himself and his gift to his own people. All who have known him testify to his great contribution to Canadian painting. It is to Homer Watson we must attribute the place given in Canadian art to Western Ontario's noble river, the Grand, a place comparable to that given the Thames in English Art."
